RAYTON FEED

PREMIUM KIBBLE MADE WITH HIGH-QUALITY NUTRIENT SUBSTANCES

RAYTON has developed a new line of feed specifically designed for the needs of your athletic dogs, supporting their physical effort and ideal for maintaining good shape during rest periods. Our kibbles are made with top-quality ingredients and high-quality nutrients, resulting from extensive research and years of practical breeding experience.

RAYTON prioritizes meat and fish from suppliers who guarantee the highest quality, origin, and freshness. Additionally, RAYTON is highly attentive to the health and well-being of dogs; our product line features Low Grain, which ensures a very low use of high-gluten cereals like wheat, replacing them with noble, gluten-free grains such as corn and rice, along with important legumes for a balanced diet, like peas. All raw materials are processed as quickly as possible to ensure maximum freshness during production.

RAYTON uses extrusion technology for its kibbles, using only steam to create a balanced and highly digestible product. The kibbles are then glazed with a mix of animal fat and "appetizer" to enhance their appearance and aroma, increasing palatability and flavor for dogs. They are subsequently stored in high-quality bags with a triple-layer metallization to maintain maximum freshness throughout the storage period.

2. During training: provides the necessary sprint.

It contains carbohydrates with differentiated absorption rates, such as maltodextrins with different dextrose equivalent values (D.E. 7-10, D.E. 18-20), and fatty acids from Krill Oil and vegetable oils that support energy metabolism.

3. During rest: supports physiological well-being.

It contains high-quality protein sources and lipids, such as Egg Powder and Coconut Oil, providing a concentrated single-dose supply of essential nutrients that support the animal's natural well-being.
